Die Deaflympics, die Weltspiele im Gehörlosensport, werden alle vier Jahre ausgetragen. Sie finden immer im Jahr nach den Olympischen Spielen und den Paralympics statt und auch hier gibt es Sommer- und Winterspiele.

Die 24. Sommer-Deaflympics finden nach der Corona-bedingten Pause vom 01. bis 15. Mai in Caxias do Sul / Brasilien statt.

Beim zweitältesten Multisport-Event nach den Olympischen Spielen gehen ca. 4.500 Athlet*innen aus über 100 Ländern in 20 Sportarten an den Start. Das deutsche Team kämpft mit ca. 75 Sportler*innen um die begehrten Medaillen.

Deaflympics History

Deaflympics is also known as world games for deaf and international games for the deaf. It was started in the year 1924 by ICSD, The international committee of sports for the deaf. Deaflympics is also known as the world games for deaf and international games for the deaf. It multi-sport sports event which is sanctioned by the International Olympics Committee. It is held every 4 years and it is one of the longest-running multisport events in history.

The first-ever Deaflympics was held in Paris in 1924 which was the first-ever international sporting event for athletes with disabilities. The game started with 148 athletes from 9 European countries competing in the international silent games in Paris. From 1924 to 1965 this game was called the international games for the deaf but from 1966 to 1999 these games were known as world games for the deaf, it was also referred to as the world silent games. Deaflympics is the current name of the World game for the deaf since 2001.
